Murder charged against parents

Cruelty, perjury charges also filed in infant's death

By Andy Siering
Staff writer

GRANITE CITY — A grand jury returned murder charges Thursday against the mother and stepfather of a 2-year-old girl who died in February.

Kathy R. Phillips, 18, and Jim Phillips Jr., 24, of Maryville, formerly of Granite City, were charged with first-degree murder in the death of Heather Watson. Heather, 2, died Feb. 2 at St. Louis Children's Hospital during emergency surgery to repair a ruptured bowel. A St. Louis medical examiner said the child had died from "blunt abdominal trauma."

Police believe Kathy Phillips did not seek medical attention for her daughter until three days after the fatal blow was struck.

If convicted, the Phillipses could get the death penalty, but Madison County State's Attorney Bill Haine said Friday that the prosecution was not requesting the death penalty "at this time."

The charges were added to charges filed the previous Thursday, when each was charged with conspiracy to conceal a homicide, concealment of a homicide, obstructing justice and two counts of cruelty to a child.

Kathy Phillips was charged with a third count of cruelty to a child and with state benefits fraud, the latter charge for concealing her marriage in order to continue receiving food stamps.

After Heather's death, the Phillipses moved from Granite City to Maryville, Mo. Thursday's murder indictments allege that the Phillipses struck Heather in the abdomen between Jan. 28 and Feb. 1, and then failed to get medical attention in time to save her life or failed to inform medical personnel of her abdominal injury.

Also indicted Thursday was Kathy Phillips' mother, Sandra Abernathy of Granite City. Abernathy, 38, was indicted on two counts of perjury for allegedly lying to the grand jury. She had been granted immunity for her testimony, but that did not cover allegedly false statements to the grand jury.

The Phillipses were released later Thursday after each posted $25,000 in cash to satisfy $250,000 bonds set by Chief Criminal Court Judge Edward C. Ferguson.

Abernathy was released on her own recognizance. Assistant State's Attorney Don Weber had asked Ferguson to disqualify attorney (See MURDER, Page 10A)

UMB considers bid for thrift

By Ed Gurney
Staff writer

COLLINSVILLE — The company that owns UMB First National Bank of Collinsville is considering the purchase of Madison County Federal Savings and Loan.

United Missouri Bank may put in a bid for Madison County Federal, according to spokesman Peter Genovese.

"It would be a natural for us with the Collinsville bank," Genovese said. "We could merge that in and have a fairly good network in Metro East."

UMB First National, which includes facilities in Collinsville, Maryville, Caseyville and Swansea, is currently United Missouri's only bank in Metro East.

A federal agency, the Resolution Trust Corp., is seeking bids on Madison County Federal, which is based in Granite City. The savings and loan has been under conservatorship since the spring of 1989 because of financial problems.

Madison County Federal has branches in Collinsville, Edwardsville and Troy.

United Missouri Bank had representatives at a meeting held by the RTC in St. Louis on April 19 for prospective bidders on Madison County Federal and four other Illinois thrifts.

"We toured the sites yesterday (Thursday)," Genovese said. "We are doing financial calculations."

"We have a strong interest in looking at taking the organization over," he said. "But it has to make financial sense."

The firm must decide early this week whether to make a bid. Crosby Kemper, chairman of United Missouri Bank, told shareholders this month that his company might be interested in buying Madison County Federal, First Federal Savings Bank of East Alton or Home Federal Savings and Loan of Centralia.

Legionnaire's suit filed

By Andy Siering
Staff writer

GRANITE CITY — A local man who contracted Legionnaire's Disease in December 1988 has filed lawsuits against the Pere Marquette State Park lodge near Gratton and St. Elizabeth Medical Center.

Paul Kratz contends that he contracted the rare disease from a swimming pool at the lodge and that the hospital was negligent in the care it provided him. Kratz spent about a week at the hospital before being transferred to Barnes Hospital in St. Louis.

Kratz's lungs were damaged by the disease and he has to carry an oxygen tank wherever he goes, said his lawyer, Morris Chapman of Granite City. Both Kratz, 61, and his wife, Muriel, are suing the lodge and the hospital for in excess of $15,000 in damages.

The actual defendants in the suit are Midwest

Property Management Inc., which operates the lodge, and the Sisters of Divine Providence, who operate the hospital.

Legionnaire's Disease was first identified in July 1976 when 255 people became ill at an American Legion convention in Philadelphia; 34 of them died. The disease is caused by a bacterium borne by water vapor.

In the Philadelphia outbreak, a high concentration of the bacterium was found in the air conditioning ducts of the hotel where the Legionnaires were staying.

Although the bacterium is common in water systems, the disease is not common, according to the Illinois Department of Public Health. Older people are more susceptible to it, which is generally true of any disease of the respiratory system.

"A hundred people can have the same exposure and only one or two get ill," said Mary Huck, a department spokesman.

Three face murder charges

By John Racine
For the Press-Record/Journal

BELLELEVILLE — Audie Wilson died once, but three accused killers face two charges each of murdering the Mascoutah man.

Court papers filed late Wednesday charge that the three "beat, stabbed and threw (Wilson) in Silver Creek" on April 8, apparently after an argument that began earlier that night at a party.

St. Clair County Coroner Rick Stone said a preliminary autopsy shows that Wilson, 21, suffered blunt trauma to the head and stab wounds to the neck.

More tests will be done to determine the exact cause of death and whether Wilson was alive when his body was thrown into the creek.

Dual murder charges were filed against Michael Woodrum, 33, of Ellwood, Pa., William Schofield, 25, of Red Bud and Luther W. Sturgill, 31, of Mascoutah.

Those three and Wayne Peach, 32, of Belleville face one count each of concealing a homicide.

Woodrum and Peach were captured Wednesday at about 1 a.m. in Granite City.

"It is one murder, but two counts," said Assistant State's Attorney Scott Mansfield. "It is actually two theories."

One theory holds that the three men intended to kill Wilson and did; the second alleges that they committed acts fully aware that they created a strong possibility of death.

The murder charge carries possible penalties of life in prison or death by lethal injection.

The charges came the day after an O'Fallon, Ill., diving team recovered Wilson's weighted-down body in the creek, which is off Illinois Highway 177 near Mascoutah.

County fifth in toxic releases

SPRINGFIELD — Madison County industries pumped more than half of the benzene released into the air in Illinois in 1988, according to the Illinois Environmental Protection Agency, and the county was the fifth worst in the state in terms of total toxic emissions.

But St. Clair County is the state's biggest producer of toxic chemicals, said the agency, and the county was the fifth worst in the state in terms of total toxic emissions.

Madison County ranks fifth among the state's 102 counties in the release of toxic chemicals. Chicago's Cook County was the worst offender, followed in order by St. Clair, Lee, Rock Island and Madison Counties.

A recent study by the Illinois Department of Public Health showed benzene emissions were one of the greatest health dangers to people living around area industries: Shell Oil Co. in Roxana, Amoco Oil Co. in Wood River and Clark, Oil and Refining Corp. in Hartford.

Granite City Steel is another source of benzene emissions, according to previous studies. Madison County industries reported releasing 969,203 pounds of benzene, a potent carcinogen, according to researchers. The statewide total for benzene was 1,839,652 pounds.

But there is some good news in the figures: releases in the Metro East area, which accounted for 22.5 percent of the statewide total a year earlier, were down to 20.9 percent of the total in the current tally.

The Annual Toxic Chemical Report details the discharge of more than 348 million pounds of toxic chemicals from 1,174 facilities during 1988, said

IEPA Director Bernard Kilian.

Some of the toxic agents were emitted or discharged directly into the environment; others were shipped to a treatment or disposal plant.

The Metro East emissions were disproportionately high compared with the rest of the state — especially in St. Clair County, home of 1.3 percent of the state's waste production, which nonetheless generated 14.1 percent of the total toxic waste.

Sixteen St. Clair industries also pumped more than twice as many toxic chemicals — 39 million pounds — into public water treatment plants as all 524 of the toxic producers in Cook County combined.

Those two counties were followed by Madison County, where 29 plants pumped 2.4 million pounds of toxic chemicals into public sewage systems.

Kilian said the figures don't necessarily show a threat to public health, because there is no cause for concern until the public is exposed.

If a plant discharges toxic agents to a treatment plant where chemicals are removed or neutralized, he said, the threat disappears.

Even so, state health officials are studying whether the toxic releases may have contributed to cancer deaths in Madison County.

The most common emissions among Metro East industries were hydrochloric acid (17.2 million pounds), ammonium sulphate (13.1 million pounds) and aluminum oxide (9 million pounds).

Kilian said it's common for the public to become concerned about emergency or accidental releases of toxic chemicals, but the routine discharges by hundreds of factories receive little attention.

Armenians remember massacre

GRANITE CITY — Missouri Lt. Gov. Mel Carnahan will be the guest speaker at a dinner today, Sunday, to honor the memory of 1.5 million Armenians massacred in Turkey 75 years ago.

The dinner will be held at 3 p.m. at St. Gregory's Community Center, 10 Colonial Drive.

A commemorative church service will be held at 11 a.m. today at Holy Shoghagat Church, 400 Huntwood Road in Belleville.

"The recent events in the disputed territory of Nagorno-Karabagh and the massacre of Armenians there by the Azeri Turks have all Armenians in the metropolitan area very concerned and upset," said the Rev. Nerses Manogian, pastor of Saint Gregory the Illuminator Armenian Apostolic Church here.

"There are too many disturbing similarities between the massacre of Armenians today and the tragedy of 75 years ago," he said.

"Armenians are still dying."

Raid nets gang members, guns

ST. LOUIS — Police arrested 14 members and associates of an outlaw motorcycle gang, including an East Carondelet man, that police suspect has been involved in drug dealing in the Metro East.

The announcement was made Thursday afternoon by federal authorities seated before a cache of nearly 50 weapons, including a Thompson submachine gun, military rifles and eight homemade pipe bombs. The raids at nine Metro-East locations early that morning capped off a yearlong investigation into the Wind Tramps motorcycle gang in East St. Louis.

Where there are firearms you're going to have drugs these days," said Frederick Hess, the U.S. Attorney for Southern Illinois. "This week-end it's going to be considerably quieter now that we've taken this material and these individuals off the street."

The weapons were seized in October from various locations in the area, including the Wind Tramps headquarters located about two miles east of East St. Louis in the unincorporated area of Canteen Township.

A federal grand jury brought down indictments on nine men and five women on weapons and drugs charges Wednesday, including Norman McMillan, 35, of East Carondelet. He faces charges of conspiracy to distribute in excess of 5 kilograms of cocaine and two counts of distribution of cocaine.

Assistant U.S. Attorney Ralph Friederich said gang member McMillan also is under indictment for drug trafficking in Florida. Investigators allegedly found a human ear for which they had no immediate explanation — crack cocaine and 23 firearms during a search of McMillan's home.

Ken Cloud, the agent in charge of the Drug Enforcement

Agency in St. Louis, said the gang members are "mid-level" distributors, who are all charged with dealing more than 5 kilograms of cocaine (about 11 pounds), with a wholesale value of about $250,000.

"They're a motorcycle gang that has relationships with other gangs," Cloud said. "They're just crooks. They had no means of support other than criminal activity."

Most of the arrests occurred at the suspects' homes. According to Hess, if convicted on all charges, most of those listed on the indictments face prison terms of from 10 years to life. In addition, many of the charges carry fines of up to $6 million.

Others indicted were: John Davis, 38, James Burkett, 29, Robert Groves, 45, Jerry Montgomery, 29, Jessie Armer, 31, all of East St. Louis; Daniel Welter, 36, of Joliet; Sharon Fonger, 30, David Lichtenegger, 37, and Kathleen Wicher, 31, all of Caseyville; Cheryl L. Cretton, 26, and Sheri D. Johnson, 26, of Belleville; and Sylvette Lewis, 34, of St. Louis; and McMillan.

An allegedly high-level gang member, Thomas L. Taylor, 37, of East St. Louis was not captured in the raids. Hess said Taylor is considered armed and dangerous and may still be in Southern Illinois. He faces charges of conspiracy to distribute in excess of 5 kilograms of cocaine, two counts of distribution of cocaine, and two counts of possession of a firearm by a convicted felon. He also faces charges of possession of a machine gun, manufacture of a pipe bomb and sale of a stolen gun.

Agencies involved with the investigation were the Bureau of Alcohol, Tobacco, and Firearms and the Drug Enforcement Administration, as well as local agencies.

Partney cars burglarized

Cars belonging to Don Partney Jr. and his stepdaughter, Becky Hilker, were burglarized during the evening of April 18. A brick was thrown through the window of Partney's car, from which a $145 radar detector was taken. Assorted cassette tapes were taken from Hilker's auto. Both cars were parked outside the Partney residence on Thomas Court.

Residence burglarized

Joseph J. Zimmerman of the 900 block of 24th Street reported that his residence was burglarized between 3 p.m. and 11:15 p.m. April 18. Entrance was gained by breaking a door window. Taken were two stereo speakers valued at $400, a shotgun valued at $100 and a $20 knife.

Scares off young burglar

Tony Mains told police he chased a burglar out of his mother's apartment in Kirkpatrick Homes April 19. Mains had stopped by the apartment at 3 a.m. to check on it while his mother, A. Joan Mains, was out of town.

Mains heard a noise upstairs and saw feet disappearing out a bedroom window. The intruder climbed down a tree. Mains gave chase but lost sight of a boy, 14 or 16 years old, with blond hair. The burglar wore a white T-shirt and blue jeans.

Hotson gets nursing home job

EDWARDSVILLE — Granite City resident Roger W. Hotson was appointed Wednesday as the new administrator of the Madison County Nursing Home in Edwarsville.

Hotson fills the vacancy left by the death of former administrator Bill Rainwater in January.

County Board Chairman Nelson Hagnauer, D-Granite City, commended the Personnel Committee for its selection of Hotson, saying the committee had to sort through six or seven highly qualified candidates.

County Director of Administration James K. Monday said that Hotson, who did not attend the Wednesday County Board meeting, has been administrator at the Weier Retirement and Nursing Home in Swansea for the last 15 years.

Monday said both the county home and the Swansea home are 66-bed facilities.

Hotson, whose appointment took effect Thursday, will receive an annual salary of $35,000.

Counties OK waste plan

Representatives from St. Clair, Madison and Monroe counties approved revisions to the Solid Waste Management Plan for the three counties at a meeting April 11.

The St. Clair County Board's environment committee met with Madison and Monroe County officials to go over changes made in the plan, designed by the East-West Gateway Coordinating Council, after the Illinois Environmental Protection Agency looked at it.

IEPA wrote a letter delineating approximately 23 points which it said were not properly addressed in the plan submitted to Springfield, said St. Clair board member Frank Boyne, D-Belleville.

Susan Schold, a consultant with East-West Gateway, said the plan remained basically the same, with the exception of some minor changes.

"Appendix information on landfills was moved and expanded into the body of the document," Schold said.

"The IEPA said we had to move the explanation of recycling into the place in the chapter where we talk about recycling."

The state environmental agency also wanted to know about the timing of a waste-to-energy plan. "They wanted explained how the elements would come on-line," Schold said.

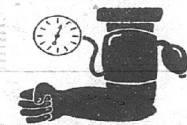

After the revisions were accepted by representatives of the three counties, a May 9 public hearing date was approved for St. Clair, Madison and Monroe counties. The hearings will be held at each of the three county courthouses.

Copies of the plan with revisions will be available at the courthouses and also at libraries and city halls in Edwarsville, Belleville and Waterloo.

Illinois law requires each county with 100,000 or more people to submit a waste management plan to cover the next 20 years.

Lawmakers already floating riverboat changes

By Dennis McMurray
Staff writer

SPRINGFIELD — Proposed changes to the state gambling law are stacking up faster than chips in front of a lucky gambler.

In addition to a proposed referendum allowing for voter approval, lawmakers have suggested changing how the state revenues will be spent, allowing betting at the dock and opening wagering to sports events.

Sen. Robert Madigan, R-Lincoln, is proposing that half the money collected by the state be used for a "River Beautiful Fund" to dredge and clean up the state's rivers.

The law now earmarks all of the state's share for education. Madigan would give half the revenue to education.

Rep. Richard Mautino, D-Spring Valley, introduced a bill that would allow the Admiral on the St. Louis riverfront to be eligible for an Illinois gambling license.

Although it doesn't mention the Admiral by name, it contains a description that only fits the ill-fated excursion boat that's now a bankrupt docked amulet center.

But Mautino said he knows almost nothing about the Admiral and does not know of any plans to move it to the Illinois shore.

He said he picked up language from bill introduced in the Missouri Legislature so he would have something to spark debate on allowing gambling permanently docked boats.

The Missouri Legislature last week defeated any plans for gambling aboard cruising or docked riverboats.

Rep. E.J. "Zeke" Giorgi, D-Rockford, introduced a bill that he said was intended to permit gambling on professional sports events on both riverboats and through lottery terminals.

Although the bill would only authorize a study by the gaming board and the lottery, Giorgi said he would change it to allow betting to proceed if the idea has support.

He said the intention was to use state revenue from sports betting, which he estimated could be as much as $500 million a year, for construction of a new domed stadium and expansion of the McCormick Place convention center in Chicago. Some of the money could also be used for downtown convention centers and other projects, he said.

Gov. James Thompson has been promoting the domed stadium and McCormick Place expansion and Giorgi said Thompson "has indicated to me more than once he would look favorably on a sports bet bill if it was written right."

Some want to cast off early

By Dennis McMurray
Staff writer

SPRINGFIELD — Some developers of floating casinos want to get an early start on building the boats.

The people planning gambling operations at Rock Island, Moline East Dubuque and Peoria urged the state gaming board to give them preliminary approval for licenses so they can start boat construction.

Representatives said they have detailed plans but must start construction or they won't be afloat by Jan. 1, when waterborne gambling becomes legal.

But gaming board Chairman William Kunkle and other potential license applicants argued that any kind of "preliminary" license approval could lead to years of lawsuits.

Since the law gave all potential applicants for the first five licenses until July 1 to file their proposals, "I don't see how we can approve one or more until all have been received," Kunkle said.

"This is a race to the courthouse or do we want the best programs for Illinois?" Kunkle asked.

Moline/Rock Island area officials and developers were particularly pushing for a quicker license process because they'll face competition from Iowa boats next April.

All the developers seeking preliminary approval noted they have secured endorsements from the city councils.

Sen. Denny Jacobs, D-East Moline, chief sponsor of the riverboat gambling bill, said he believes it is unrealistic to expect any operations to start before March.

The gaming board set its next meeting in Springfield for April 25, with Kunkle promising to have an administrator hired by then and further work done on a proposed application process.

Nevada and New Jersey gambling regulation officials will testify at the next meeting, Kunkle added.

Gambling elections proposed

SPRINGFIELD — Voters could get the final say over whether a city has gambling boats under a proposed change in the law.

Sen. Frank Wilson, R-Greenview, wants to amend the law.

Under his idea, licenses would not be awarded if 5 percent of the voters sign petitions seeking a referendum.

Riverboat gambling would then be put on a ballot and require majority voter approval before a license could be issued. Under the current law, only majority approval of the city council is required.

Many interested

GRANITE CITY — The Quad City area, especially Venice, has shown interest in a gambling riverboat or a docking point.

The other Quad Cities, Moline/Rock Island, is eager to proceed, what with nearby Iowa also planning gaming boats.

Others mentioned recently include East St. Louis, Alton, Peoria and East Dubuque.

Policing of limits on gamblers' bets called unworkable

SPRINGFIELD — The proposed $500 limit on individual losses by riverboat gamblers in Illinois came under fire again in mid-April.

State gaming board Chairman William Kunkle was joined by an Illinois State Police official in arguing limits would be difficult to enforce.

Legislation to impose the limit, which sponsors said was "inadvertently" omitted when the law was passed in January, has been stalled in the Senate.

Kunkle said Nevada and New Jersey officials told him limiting the number of chips or tokens persons could wager would cause many practical problems.

The riverboat gamblers would have to buy their chips at a central window, and with up to 1,200 gamblers on each four-hour cruise, many of them could end up spending more than half the time in line, he said.

Illinois State Police Master Sgt. Joseph McQuaid also argued the loss limit wouldn't work.

"I find the task very improbable for successful enforcement." He said the limit would lead to a secondary market for chips, with those who hadn't passed their limit selling chips at a higher price and "compromising our enforcement efforts."

Although McQuaid said he understands the intent of the limit is to protect the individual, he believes "aberrant behavior that is manifested in excessive gambling will not be addressed by limited participation."

"This individual will leave the boat, take a second excursion, seek the lottery, parimutuel betting or illegal forms of gambling if (he) wants to gamble."

Policing the floating casinos might take up to 120 additional state troopers, McQuaid estimated. At least three troopers should be assigned to each cruise because of the large amount of money on board and because local police would not have jurisdiction, he said.

If troopers also had to police how much each gambler was losing, substantially more officers might be needed, he said.

Wolf addresses steel retirees

Maxine Duniphan covers the Mitchell area for the Press-Record/Journal. She can be contacted at 831-2714.

State Rep. Sam Wolf, D-Granite City, was the featured speaker at the April 9 meeting of SOAR (Steelworkers Organization for Active Retirees) at the USWA Local 67 Hall, 2334 East 23rd St.

Wolf, a former steelworker and a union member at Granite City Steel, addressed a number of issues and answered questions.

The retirees questioned the use of funds from the Illinois Lottery and whether the money is being spent on schools as promised by promoters of the lottery. They also asked where the revenue derived from the riverboat gambling proposal will be used.

Other concerns expressed by the retirees involved local economic development, senior programs and the changes in telephone service (Local Measured Service).

Maxine Duniphan

Wolf responded to each question and elaborated further on the issues raised. He also offered some "do's and don'ts" about actions an individual can take if they disagree with an issue coming before the legislature or a measure that already has been passed.

The group enjoyed a ham and bean dinner after the meeting.

Jim and Theresa Kelley of Maryville Road have returned from Springfield, Mo., where they visited her aunt and uncle Pat and Denver Payne.

The Kelleys were treated by their hosts to dinner at the new Garden Restaurant and a shopping trip at St. Clair Square in honor of her birthday April 13.

Present were her daughters, Nancy Colbert, Linda Brinkmeyer, Penny Dummitt and Pam Maran, and her daughter-in-law, Pam Rinehart.

Wanda Rinehart recently returned from a 10-day trip to Olathe, Kan., where she visited with her daughter, Judy Cooper and family. She also attended a live dinner-theater performance and the "Ice Capades" before returning home Tuesday on Amtrak.

Dinner was served to 27 patrons of the quilting group and the newly created Golden Acres Senior Park.

Following Easter morning worship services at the Johnson Road General Baptist Church, 2033 Johnson Road, Lowell and Marguerite Warren, accompanied by their family and friends, had dinner at Mazzini's Restaurant in Madison.

Present were the couple's children, Mike Warren, his wife, Jodie, and their children Ian, Jennifer and Amy; Janis Wolf, her husband, Dave, and their children Tracy and Michael; and Monte Warren, his wife, Susie, and their sons Jared and Josh.

Also present were the church pastor, the Rev. Gene Lineberry, Evelyn Alford and George and Juanita Wolf.

Tom and Nancy Colbert of Chouteau Avenue were hosts for a family dinner Easter Sunday.

Thirty-four family members were present, including Nancy's sister, Judy Cooper of Olathe, Kan. Judy was here to attend the funeral of an aunt, Georgia McCoy of Creve Coeur, Mo.

Wanda Rinehart was entertained for dinner at the Olive Garden Restaurant and a shopping trip at St. Clair Square in honor of her birthday April 13.

Present were her daughters, Nancy Colbert, Linda Brinkmeyer, Penny Dummitt and Pam Maran, and her daughter-in-law, Pam Rinehart.

Wanda Rinehart recently returned from a 10-day trip to Olathe, Kan., where she visited with her daughter, Judy Cooper and family. She also attended a live dinner-theater performance and the "Ice Capades" before returning home Tuesday on Amtrak.

Salas riding crest of 'fluke' career

Guitarist Stevie Salas would be quick to admit he has had a charmed career. Salas, now opening for Joe Satriani, will be in St. Louis with Satriani May 3 for a show at the Fox Theater. Tickets are $18.50 and $16.50.

He came to Los Angeles in 1985 with few credentials, no job and little money. Times were so lean that he moved into a recording studio.

Then George Clinton, one of the leading figures in funk music, came to the studio for sessions on his "R&B Skeletons in the Closet" album.

That led to a gig with Clinton's protege, Bootsy Collins, on his "What's Bootsy Doin'?" recording. Salas' career then began to roll.

Salas landed a job as staff producer with David Kershenbaum, just before Kershenbaum took on a project by a then-unknown singer-songwriter named Tracy Chapman.

"Another little fluke, an accident, and it just sort of fell into my lap," Salas said of the job with Kershenbaum.

Working on albums by Warrant, Was (Not Was), The Tubes and the Pandoras, Salas soon became known as one of Los Angeles' hottest producer-playboys.

That notoriety led to his biggest break of all—an invitation to join Red Stewart's touring band in 1988 and 1989. Suddenly, Salas, who not long before had been living hand to mouth, was a jet-setting rock 'n' roller.

"That was an incredible experience, you know," Salas said, his voice still showing a trace of disbelief at his good fortune. It was overwhelming to all of a sudden be a rock star. It was just kind of weird.

Now Salas has moved to a new phase. He and his band, Coloredone, which includes drummer Winston A. Watson and bassist C.J. DeViller, have a debut album out. Filled with hard-hitting funk, rock, and rhythm and blues, the LP is getting its share of glowing reviews.

"I set out with this album to try to break trends," he said. "I wanted to create a new vibe, but I also wanted to try to not fall into or cater to a radio format."

"It's an uphill battle," he said. "But you know, I think that when the Police (debuted), who would have thought you would have heard 'Roxanne' on aOR (album oriented rock) radio? And they created a whole new vibe. I'm sure that was a long shot, and I'm all for the long shot."

Film features face familiar to St. Louis

There's a familiar face in the new Paramount release "Crazy People." He is former KMOX-TV (now KTVI) personality Julian Bell, who was with the station from June 1980 to December 1986.

The former St. Louis resident plays a television news anchorman who hawks the fact that ad man Dudley Moore's commercials for a new horror film called "The Freak" are causing the public to break down theater doors and pay as much as $20 to see the movie.

Amidst many customer complaints about broken films, bad projection and old prints with poor viewing quality, Wehrenberg's Creve Coeur Cine continues to bring along with three not-so-recent films: "Enemies: A Love Story," "My Left Foot," and "Music Box."

The theater marquee on the southeast corner of the building has not listed a title of the films showing at the theater for the last five weeks.

Wehrenberg officials are not commenting on the theater's future, (or the unusual absence of titles on the marquee), but all the untended problems seem to add fuel to reports among commercial real estate sources that the cinema is destined to be closed soon in favor of some new commercial development.

In the meantime, the once proud theater that had an 800-seat auditorium before it was split into three smaller theaters remains a not-so-great place to see a movie.

Wehrenberg's 66 Park-In, one of the area's two remaining drive-in theaters, opened last weekend for the summer. The theater at 9440 Watson Road is operating on a weekend schedule. Admission is $5 per person, but as a Wehrenberg representative was quick to point out, that is for two features.

The 66 Park-In opened in 1945. The other remaining drive-in theater is the Wehrenberg's North Twin Drive-In, 9425 Lewis & Clark Blvd, which opened in 1947.

I don't know about you, but I can remember pulling into the St. Ann Four-Screen Drive-In and seeing a sign that read: "$1 for one or a carload."

Harry Hamm is entertainment editor for both KMOX-AM (1120) and the CBS Radio Network.

'Retiree' is 'Employee of the Year'

A man who works in Madison is the recipient of one of the highest honors presented by the Illinois Department of Aging.

Dean Anthony, 71, of Greenville, was recently named Private Sector Employee of the Year at an awards luncheon in Springfield.

Anthony is front store manager for Schermer's Super Market and has been an employee there since 1975.

A total of 81 persons were nominated for the honor and Anthony said he was surprised when he learned he had been selected as the only award winner.

"There were 81 nominees wearing carnations," he said of the banquet held in Springfield. "I thought we were all going to get awards. I told my wife I hope I get mine first so we can go home."

"When I got the (only) award, I liked to fall off my chair!"

Anthony was nominated by Don Ferguson, coordinator of the Bond County Job Training (JTFA) program. He received a plaque plus a $100 cash award. "I'm very proud about it," Anthony said the day after receiving the honor.

Anthony commutes over 90 miles a day to his full-time job as a supermarket manager and also sells real estate part-time for Bunyard's Real Estate Agency in Greenville.

He and his wife, Nelda, have been leaders in the work of the Bond County Genealogical Society, having been involved with the organization for seven years.

Anthony is the president of the society, for which he headed a 1989 JTFA project that used summer youth help, to restore old and abandoned cemeteries in the county. Anthony and his workers restored Greenville's Lansing cemetery, where 150 tombstones were uncovered from the soil, 36 of them belonging to veterans of American wars.

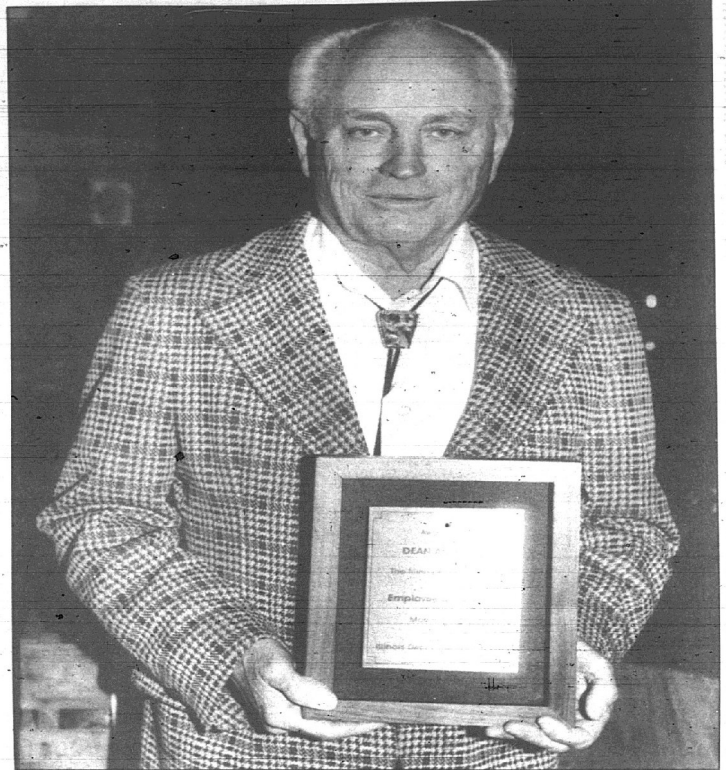

After Anthony contacted the Veterans Administration in Washington, D.C., Lansing cemetery received 36 new marble tombstones. Each was properly inscribed to honor the fallen soldiers. In addition, a 20-foot flag pole and a large American flag were donated, which now flies in the restored cemetery.

Ferguson described Anthony as "an outstanding model for older workers because of his community involvement and his dedication to preserving Bond county's heritage."

More than 500 persons attended the awards luncheon in Springfield. The annual event was held in conjunction with National Employ the Older Worker Week.

The keynote speaker was Mary F. Grady from the U.S. Census Bureau, who spoke about the role of the older worker in the 1990 census campaign.

Anthony said he has no plans to retire. He tried it once and didn't like it, retiring in 1973 after 33 years with the Schuette's supermarket chain. He was the manager of its Belleville store.

"I got tired of doing nothing," he said. "I got introduced to Avery Schermer in 1975, and I've been here ever since."

Asked if he would rather have been named Young Man of the Year, the 71-year-old laughed.

"I don't have any choice on that," he said.

Seniors meeting the 'challenges of a new age'

SPRINGFIELD — More than 500 people from throughout Illinois attended an awards luncheon in Springfield recently in honor of older workers and their employers.

The annual event, held in conjunction with National Employ the Older Worker Week, March 11-17, is hosted by the Illinois Department on Aging and several social service and governmental agencies. Keynote speaker Mary F. Grady of the U.S. Census Bureau, discussed the role of the older worker in the 1990 Census campaign.

Expounding on this year's theme, "Meeting the Challenges of a New Age," Department on Aging Director Janet S. Otwell joined Grady and state and local officials in praising the winners in this year's award competition.

Among the winners are:

Private Sector Employee of the Year: Dean Anthony, 71, of Greenville, who commutes over 90 miles a day to his full-time job as a supermarket manager and also sells real estate part-time. As President of the Bond County Genealogical Society, Anthony headed a 1989 JTFA project to restore Greenville's Lansing Cemetery. During restoration, 150 neglected and broken tombstones were uncovered, 36 belonging to veterans of American wars. After Anthony contacted the Veterans Administration, Lansing cemetery received 36 inscribed marble replacement tombstones.

Public Sector Employee of the Year: Jack Herford of Scottsville is a former nursing home administrator who came out of retirement in 1982 when Springfield's Project New Start Inc. needed temporary help. As a liaison with nursing homes and state agencies, his duties included conducting outreach, and planning and implementing nursing assistant training programs. He became so essential he was persuaded to work full-time and now manages Project New Start's Training Center in Tovey, while continuing to handle many projects he helped initiate.

Senior Community Service Employment Program Enrollee of the Year (a program administered by the Department of Labor, the Department on Aging and seven national contractors): Robert Long from Olney has worked in the office of the Illinois Department of Employment Security since August, 1987 assisting clients with computerized job searches, organizing material for mass mailings and large training sessions, plus many other tasks which are always completed quickly and accurately.

Public Sector Employer of the Year: The Illinois Secretary of State's Office believes older workers are invaluable to an organization because they serve as role models to younger employees, enhancing their personal and professional development. Twenty-six percent of the office's 4,300 employees are over 55.

Centennial Day for federation

The General Federation of Women's Clubs' Centennial Day in Granite City, commemorating 100 years of contributions by that organization, will be observed on Tuesday, April 24.

The occasion also marks the effective continuing activity by federation members here on behalf of their fellow residents, according to Mrs. William (Joyce E.) Albers, president, and Mrs. Richard (Shirley A.) Schwendemann, secretary, of the Ladies Coterie.

The federation was formed on April 24, 1890, to improve the quality of life to its members, their communities and nation at the time, when legal and social constraints severely limited the scope of women's interests and activities, Albers said.

The Ladies Coterie in Granite

City has been affiliated with the General Federation of Women's Clubs since 1912.

Coterie members have continued to contribute to the betterment of the city and its residents through such achievements as scholarships for the vocal music department of Granite City High School and to universities, financial support for the Salvation Army Tree of Lights, Meals on Wheels, American Red Cross and many other community needs.

Everyone is invited to join with Coterie members in observing General Federation of Women's Clubs Centennial Day to recognize the achievements of the past, activities of the present and promise for the future, Albers said.

Cancer-research bike-athon

Riders for the Saturday, April 28, Children's Research Hospital Wheels For Life bike-athon are asking Venice, Madison and Granite City area citizens to pledge a contribution for each mile they ride.

"Every mile our bikers go earns money bringing us closer to a cure for cancer. The life-saving study of childhood cancer at St. Jude has become critical to children all over the world," said Bike-athon general coordinator Metro M. Pierson.

The ride starts at New Salem Baptist Church, 1349 Klein St., Venice, at 10 a.m. and goes north on Klein Street, northeast onto Bissell Street, north on Mercedia Street onto College Street, northwest onto Second Street, south onto Bissell, east onto Klein and then south, returning to the starting point, New Salem Church's parking lot.

"If you haven't been asked to sponsor a rider, call 452-3157 and a rider will contact you," Pierson said.

"Each rider gets a lap card at registration," Pierson said. "Every time riders pass the checkpoints, we initial the card. At the end of the ride, we check and sign it to show that the rider earned what the sponsor pledged." Riders return to sponsors to collect the pledge.

Riders can still get sponsor/registration forms at the New Salem Church.

AMH to note Volunteer Week

The White Cross Auxiliary of Alton Memorial Hospital will join many volunteer groups across the country in observing National Volunteer Week, April 22-28.

According to Joan Fazekas, public relations volunteer coordinator, and Blanche Wilton, volunteer director, the week's activities will give recognition to the contributions of citizens active in volunteering and will encourage all citizens to become involved as volunteers in their community.

Guided by the theme "Volunteers Always By Your Side," the week will begin with distribution of carnations to each active volunteer. This distribution will continue throughout the week.

On April 23, the Volunteer Service Award luncheon will be held from 10:30 a.m. to 1 p.m. The White Cross Auxiliary has 150 active members. In 1989 the volunteers worked more than 14,000 hours.

Seek volunteers for MDA's camp

Volunteers are needed to work with children and young adults between the ages of 6 and 21 at the Muscular Dystrophy Association's Jerry Lewis Summer Camp.

The 1990 summer camp will be held June 24 to June 30 at Babler Park in Chesterfield, Mo.

For more information, Quad City area residents may call (314) 644-2828.

Still time to send in census form; response rate exceeds projections

The Belleville Master District Office of the U.S. Census Bureau is announcing that the response rate for mail return of completed census forms in Madison and St. Clair counties is exceeding initial projections.

Returns processed for the bi-county area covered by the Belleville office were at 66 percent as of April 13.

Vicki Klutts, district office manager, said it is still not too late to be counted.

Klutts said, "April 1 was not the deadline to return questionnaires." She urged that all who have not yet returned their questionnaires complete it and mail it as soon as possible.

Klutts is reminding residents that by completing their questionnaire, they will assist the count for representatives in the U.S. House of Representatives and will have a favorable impact on federal and state funds directed to local communities.

As announced previously by the Census Bureau, any household that did not receive or that lost the questionnaire should call the following toll-free number, which is open seven days per week between 9 a.m. and 9 p.m.: 1-800-359-1990.

A Census Bureau representative will take address information so each case can be researched, allowing residents at that address to be counted.

Klutts said, "The residents of Madison and St. Clair counties have been very responsive in completing, and returning their questionnaires. We urge those who have been putting off completing their questionnaires to complete and return them now."

"It's not too late for you to be counted and benefit yourselves and your community."

Wild pitches help Warriors beat Kahoks

By Dave Whaley
Executive sports editor

GRANITE CITY — Bob Stegemeier was smarting after Wednesday's loss at East St. Louis. So were his players. The Collinsville Kahoks felt their sting on Thursday.

The Warriors bounced back from that 4-3 loss to the Flyers with a workmanlike 7-2 win over the Kahoks at Varsity Field. An offense which appeared comatose Wednesday came back with nine hits Thursday while pitchers Rich Schardan and Tom Senecyn limited the Kahoks to four hits.

"Granite City improved to 6-3 overall and 2-2 in the Southwestern Conference. The Kahoks, who jumped to an 8-2 start, lost their second conference game in two days and fell into the SWC basement at 1-3. They are 8-4 overall.

"There's not much to say about this one," said Collinsville coach Steve McFall. "We certainly didn't hit the ball as well as we have. Granite City hit the ball and got good pitching. And we had some wild pitches and passed balls that were ridiculous."

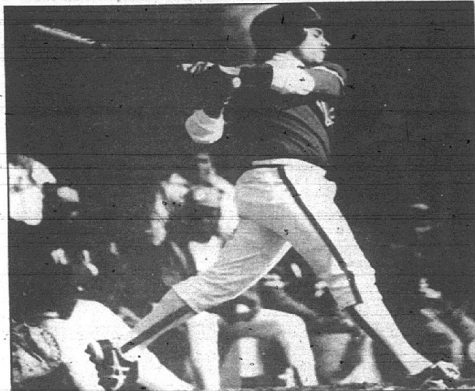

Indeed, Kahok catcher Craig Whitehead looked like he had some good friends behind the backstop as he had to chase down six errant pitches from starter Brad Furfaro. Three of the Warriors' runs scored on wild pitches.

"We were much better with the bats today," said Stegemeier. "They should have been down after Wednesday. We only had three hits and were lucky to get three runs. We were more aggressive today and got some clutch hits."

Schardan improved to 2-0 in pitching five innings. He wasn't quite as overpowering as he was in his one-hit shutout of Washington on April 9, but he helped himself with the bat. He singled and scored in the second, then had an RBI double and scored again in a four-run fourth which broke the game open. Senecyn struck out three and walked three — but allowed no hits — in pitching the final two innings.

The Kahoks scored once in the TONY STERNBERG of the Warriors follows through on his swing — eyes closed. Weather permitting, Granite City will play seven games this week, starting with a 4:30 double-header Tuesday at home against Belleville East.

Gebhard nearly perfect in beating Lady Warriors

By Brian Henry
Correspondent

COLLINSVILLE — Angie Gebhard not only stopped the Lady Warriors on the mound Thursday, but also beat them with her bat.

Gebhard, the ace of the Collinsville High School softball team's pitching staff, threw a perfect game for six innings and drove in two runs with a single during a six-run third inning as the Lady Kahoks (2-2 in the Southwestern Conference, 6-2 overall) beat the Lady Warriors 9-3.

Gebhard pitched well and kept up off-side with her changeup, said Lady Warrior coach John Hutchings after his team fell to 2-2 in conference play and 2-6 overall.

A combination of chilly weather and Granite City bats let it be known that Gebhard would have to wait another day for her first perfect game. The Lady Warriors strung together four hits and all three of their runs in the seventh inning.

"I was getting pretty cold out on the mound," Gebhard said. "I guess that started to have some effect on my pitches. I was throwing pretty well for the most part."

Gebhard lost her bid for a perfect game when Kim Pawlak led off the inning with a sharply hit grounder that ran up the arm of third baseman Jennifer Keller for an error.

One out later, Jennifer Cavanaugh spoiled the no-bitter with a solid single to right to drive in Pawlak, who had stolen both second and third base. Michelle Bequette followed with a single and Tiffany Winters drove home two more runs with a single to left.

For the game, Gebhard struck out 13 batters and didn't allow a walk. She struck out the side twice and retired 18 consecutive batters before the error.

Collinsville scored once in the first and put the game out of reach with their third-inning outburst. Gebhard's bases-loaded bloop over a drawn-in infield was the big blow. Lady Warrior pitcher Mia Puhse also forced in a run with a walk.

"Mia had a real strong outing," said Hutchings. "She was all right except for the third and fourth innings. She had much better control and it seems she's getting stronger every time out."

"The kids really wanted to win this game today," Collinsville coach Stan Schaeffer said.

Let the games begin

Babe Champion might have thought he was ready for a life of leisure when he retired from the teaching profession a couple years ago. But the fun was just beginning.

Champion, whose name is as synonymous with Granite City sports as anyone else's, took over the job as recreation supervisor with the Granite City Park District last year. There is plenty to do in the fall and winter months, but we are just now getting around to the main course.

Weather permitting, play begins Monday in the park district's adult softball leagues. This year there are 17 leagues and 118 teams, and that doesn't even include the youth baseball and ponyball softball leagues. They won't get started until May 5, when Cardinal general manager and Granite City native Dal Maxwell will again help kick off the season with his appearance in the Baseball Parade.

Dave Whaley

As it is, you'll be hard-pressed to drive by Wilson Park Diamond 6, Worthen Park or West Granite Park between now and August and not see someone playing softball during the evening hours. Champion probably doesn't want to be reminded, but he has overseen the scheduling of 699 regular-season games in those 17 leagues.

With the weather the way it's been, there's no telling how many of those will have to be rescheduled. And then there are the playoffs. The latest scheduled league final is Aug. 19 when

Briggs, young Trojanettes hopeful going into stretch

By Dave Whaley
Executive sports editor

RED BUD — Despite the loss of some key performers from last season, the Trojanette track team is regrouping heading into the key part of the season.

Coach Gene Briggs has no seniors on this year's squad. Top performers from last year like Katrina Garrett, Shalonda Virginia and Paula Ware are not on the squad this year due to grades, jobs or lack of interest.

"We need something positive to get some of these girls interested again," said Briggs. "But we still have a chance to get something done at the sectionals. We've got three weeks and some big meets before then."

Madison finished second in the Red Bud freshman-sophomore meet on Wednesday. Chester won with 59 points and the Trojanettes had 54. Waterloo was next in the eight-team field with 36 points. Considering he only has eight juniors to go with the freshmen and sophomores, Wednesday was almost like a varsity meet to Briggs.

"The girls did an excellent job," he said. "We almost had enough to beat Chester. We had girls competing in three or four events each. You put those 12 girls in that meet with our eight juniors and that's our team."

The Trojanettes got first in the 800 medley, the 400 relay, the shot put and the 200 meters. Freshman Yukeitha Gardner won the 200 meters with a time of 28.5 seconds. Freshman Shalonda Foreshee took the shot put with a throw of 30-5.

The Sunday AA League should wrap up.

This year there is a Senior (Over 50) League with six teams. There is also a Men's 55 and Over League, the Sunday AA League, five other men's leagues, six women's leagues and three church leagues.

Thanks almost entirely to the great work of Babe Champion and his helpers at the park district, we'll be able to keep you up on scores and standings of all the leagues throughout the summer months.

Which brings us to the next matter. Outside of the park district leagues, there are countless other recreational leagues in a variety of sports. We know they're out there, we just don't hear from them enough. We want to print scores and standings of any and all leagues. Now is the time for league officials to men Sherman Russell and Misty Garrett on the winning 800 medley team with a time of 2:02.5. Gardner, Russell and sophomore Fashon Horton and Lajuan Jenkins won the 400 relay in 55.1 seconds.

The 800 relay (Jones, Jenkins, freshman Tracey Cato and sophomore Lori Keller) finished second at 2:00.1; Garrett was second in the 400 meters at 65.0 and Russell was second in the long jump at 14-10. The 3200 relay team of Cato, sophomore Michelle Thomas, freshman Janita Walton and freshman DeAnna Griggs was third at 12:51.

Madison ran in the Greenville AA League on Friday and will compete in the Madison County Green Division Meet on Tuesday in Highland.

"I think we can still be a factor in three relay events, the 200 open and a couple of others by sectional time," said Briggs.

NOTES: Thursday's Tiger Relays, in which the Warrior boys team was to compete, were postponed by the weather and will be made on May 1. The Warrior girls team finished fourth in a quadrangular meet at Collinsville on Wednesday with 25 points. Jennifer Windfield won the mile run. County meets are Tuesday. Granite City will compete in the Red Division Meet at Collinsville along with Alton, Edwardsville and Collinsville. Madison will be in the Green Division Meet at Highland along with Roxana, Triad, Highland, Wood River, Metro East Lutheran and Civic Memorial. Admission is $1 for students and $2 for adults. Both meets start at 4 p.m. and the rain date is Wednesday.

Games rained out

All varsity sports action on Friday and Saturday was washed out due to the rain.

Friday's Warrior baseball game at Hillsboro will be made up May 2 in Hillsboro. The varsity game scheduled that day in New Athens will now likely just be a sophomore game. Saturday's double-header with Duplo has not yet been rescheduled, nor has Saturday's softball double-header at Mt. Vernon or the soccer game with Peoria Notre Dame. The Warrior baseball team will play a makeup double-header with Jerseyville at home on May 14.

first and could have had more. Jason Thorpe walked and Curt Forch singled. Kevin Kriemeyer and Tom Noascono both hit into fielder's choices as Thorpe scored on the second one. Mike Clark singled to right, but Noascono held up at third and Schardan got Jim Daech on a fly ball to escape further trouble.

The Warriors took the lead in the bottom of the first against Furfaro, who started the game at 3-0 with an 0.66 ERA. Brian Harshany and Joe Wallace singled with one out and a wild pitch scored Harshany while Wallace went from first to third as Furfaro held the ball at the plate, after taking the return throw from Whitehead. Wallace scored on Dan Partney's single to center.

Schardan and Jim McKeenan singled in the second and Schardan came home on another wild pitch to make it 5-1. A walk, a double by Daech and Jason Smith's sacrifice fly trimmed the margin to 5-2 in the top of the fourth, but the Warriors delivered the knockout punch in the bottom of the fifth inning.

Two walks were followed by Mike Mueller's hit over the third base gap for one run. Schardan and McKeenan followed with RBI hits and McKeenan scored the final run on yet another wild pitch before Furfaro was relieved by John Mendez.

"Furfaro's been a good pitcher for us and he'll come right back the next time out," said McCall. "We're in the middle of a lot of away games right now, but I've been happy with this team so far. We've run the bases aggressively, but they took that away from us today by getting ahead right away."

"Getting a quick lead limits their running game and so does having Joe throw out the first guy who tries to steal," said Stegemeier.

Wallace gunned down Scott Getz with a perfect throw after Getz had reached on an error in the second inning.

Partney and McKeenan joined Schardan as all three delivered two hits and an RBI.

"It was good to see Mueller get a hit and Jimmy McKeenan got a couple of big two-out hits," said Stegemeier. "And we know Partney can hit."

Belleville West beat Alton 10-0 on Thursday and took over the SWC lead at 3-1. Belleville East got past East St. Louis 8-7, so those two teams along with the Warriors and Alton are 2-2 while the Kahoks are 1-3.

Thom Hildebrand, from representing both the Phillipses, saying Hildebrand had a conflict of interest because prosecutors had offered Kathy Phillips a deal.

Haine declined to comment on that aspect of the case. Ferguson said he would consider the motion, but he allowed Hildebrand to represent the couple Thursday.

4th annual Crop Walk on Apr. 29

GRANITE CITY — The fourth annual Tri-City Crop Walk will be held Sunday, April 29, beginning at 1 p.m. at the Wilson Park ice skating rink and continuing on a 14-kilometer trek around the city.

Charles Hermann and Linda Watson are co-chairmen. Helen Stumpe and the Rev. John Walter are in charge of arrangements. Millie Clements is recruitment leader and the Rev. John Davis is treasurer.

At a recruitment rally held at Nameoki Methodist Church, announcement was made of the following churches and their recruiters who are already enrolled in the Crop Walk:

- Nameoki Presbyterian — Kiki Supp.
- Nameoki Methodist — Byron Briner.
- Niedringhaus Memorial Methodist — Dorothy Davis.
- St. Peter United Church of Christ — Linda Watson.
- St. John United Church of Christ — Nancy Thomsberry.
- St. Elizabeth Catholic Church — Mary Lou Lyeria and Mary Grobowski.
- Central Christian — Barbara Williams.
- Dewey Avenue Methodist — Jean Hileman.
- Good Shepherd Methodist — Mary Ann Ramsey.

- First Baptist — Denise Wright.
- First Presbyterian — Ann Rich.
- Holy Family — Karen Reedy.
- Madison Presbyterian — Eunice Wilkerson.
- Trinity Methodist — Charles Hermann.

Goals this year are $10,000 and 250 walkers. One-fourth of the money collected will remain in Granite City to be divided between Catholic Charities and Protestant Welfare.

The only entry fee will be canned food, which will be given to Protestant Welfare. A spokesman said, "A hundred million children go hungry around the world. The walkers will be showing their care. Join our walk by getting a sponsor sheet from one of the above recruiters or call Millie Clements at 876-6339."

Briefly

Madison to conduct screening

Madison public schools will conduct their annual screening of 3-, 4- and 5-year-old children on Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday, April 24, 25 and 26.

Developmental areas targeted are: cognitive-verbal, fine motor, gross motor, speech and expressive language, hearing, vision, social and medical history.

Children who will attain the age of 5 years by Sept. 1 will be eligible to register for kindergarten classes.

To register a child for kindergarten, the parent or guardian must present the child's birth certificate or some other legal proof of birth, plus the child's immunization record, and must pay a $10 registration and workbook fee.

Children ages 3, 4 and 5 who need special services may be referred to the Early Childhood program.

Parents will be given health cards so that physical or dental examinations and immunizations can be completed before the start of school. No child will be permitted to enter kindergarten until proof of physical examination and an immunization record are established.

The screening schedule will be:

- Blair School, 876-4818, Tuesday, April 24, 1 p.m. to 7 p.m.
- Harris School, 877-6864, Wednesday, April 25, 1 p.m. to 4 p.m.; Thursday, April 26, 1 p.m. to 7 p.m.

Woodruff talk on 1990s news

Judy C. Woodruff, chief Washington, D.C., correspondent for the "MacNeil/Lehrer News Hour" telecast on the Public Broadcasting System, will discuss "News in the '90s" at 11 a.m. Wednesday, April 25, in Washington University's Graham Chapel.

The Adele Chomieu Starbird/Delta Kappa Honors Lecture is part of the university's Assembly Series. For information, the number is (314) 889-4620.

Kindergarten registration

The Granite City School District will conduct registration this week for children who will be entering kindergarten in August 1990.

The schedule:

Frohhardt and Lake elementary schools: Monday, April 23; Niedringhaus and Parkway: Tuesday, April 24; Marshall and Mitchell, Wednesday, April 25; Maryville and Wilson: Thursday, April 26; and Prather School: Friday, April 27.

Parents should plan to bring their child to the school serving their area between the hours of 9 a.m. to noon, or 1 p.m. to 2:30 p.m., or 4 p.m. to 6 p.m. on the date listed above.

Parents must bring their child and a copy of the birth certificate and proof of residency.

To be eligible for registration, children must be 5 years of age before Sept. 1.

Health examinations must be obtained before each child begins the fall term.

County OKs solid waste plan

The Madison County Board on Wednesday approved a schedule for the adoption of a long-range solid waste plan.

Under a 1968 law, counties of 100,000 population or more must have 20-year waste management plans in effect by next March.

The plan is an amended version of a comprehensive plan prepared for Madison, St. Clair and Monroe counties by the East-West Gateway Council.

A public hearing on the Madison County plan is set for 7 p.m. May 9 at the courthouse in Edwardsville.

It will then be submitted to the Illinois Environmental Protection Agency by May 28. The IEPA will have three months to review and approve the plan for implementation.

Blind school holds institute

The Illinois School for the Visually Impaired (ISVI) in Jacksonville will hold its seventh annual free Parent-Infant Institute May 30 to June 2.

The Institute is a four-day program for blind or visually impaired preschool children and their parents. There is no cost.

The final day to register is

May 11. For registration forms or more information, contact Bill Forney, Director of Student Services, Parent-Infant Institute, Illinois School for the Visually Impaired, 658 E. State St., Jacksonville, Ill. 62550-2184, (317) 235-4101.

The program is available to those 0-5 years old.

Student wins scholarship

Michael D. Voss, a native of Granite City attending Southern Illinois University of Edwardsville, has been awarded a $3,000 Stanley F. Pepper Memorial scholarship to study construction at the undergraduate level. Voss was one of 111 recipients of annual scholarships presented by Associated General Contractors of America Education and Research Foundation.

The competition for these annual awards opens on Sept. 1 and closes on Nov. 15. For information, contact Carol E. Cooper, director of programs, AGC Education and Research Foundation, 1957 E. Street, N.W., Washington, D. C. 20006.

'Travelers Abroad' see slides of Africa

Travelers Abroad viewed slides of two African nations at its March meeting at Jerry's Cafeteria. Sixteen members were present and four guests were welcomed. Guests were Mary Earls, Betty Duff, Julie Simcosky and Kathy Affolter, the guest speaker.

Dr. Alice Purdes introduced Affolter, whose topic focused on Zambia and Zimbabwe. As she narrated the slide presentation, Affolter wore a typical workers' dress, which was fancier than many would believe a working woman would wear. The speaker also exhibited a two-meter length of straight material which generally is wrapped around the lower half of a lady to protect her clothing.

The same material also may be tied around the waist so food items can be carried from the store. And, depending on the woman's tribe, the material could be tied about the shoulders, creating a sling in which to carry a child.

Affolter spent about a month in each of the two countries. On each occasion she visited a friend who was a missionary/secretary for the Southern Baptist Convention. Her visits were made in 1986 and in December 1989.

Originally, the two countries were known as Northern and Southern Rhodesia and were part of the British Commonwealth. They are located in the area right above South Africa and neither country has an outlet to the sea.

Zambia became an independent nation in 1964, but Zimbabwe did not gain its independence until 1980, Affolter said. Zambia is rich in copper deposits while Zimbabwe has copper, gold and other minerals.

Although mining is the main source of revenue, tourism is important in Zimbabwe for the famous Victoria Falls are located on its northern border between the two countries.

Many Europeans still remain residents despite the independent status of the countries.

Women's Fellowship hear of prison tour

A tour of Dwight Prison for Women is being arranged for May 31, it was reported by members of the Christian Women's Fellowship at Central Christian Church.

Helen Stumpe, Church Women United representative, reviewed several upcoming events, including the prison tour. She said women of Illinois have been raising money to build a chapel at the Dwight, Ill. facility, which is the sole prison for women in Illinois and the only prison without a chapel.

A five-week Bible study will start on Wednesday, April 25, at the church. Letters were read from "Five-Church Association" and "Church Neighborhood House" expressing appreciation for contributions from the women's group to help the poor and the needy in the area.

Barbara Williams distributed sign up sheets for the Crop Walk to be April 29 and asked all members to take part, either by walking or sponsoring a walker. A new slate of officers for 1990-91 was submitted by Myra Parrish, nominating chairman. Those nominated were:

President: Jo Stevens; vice president: Judy Leik; secretary: Geneva Butler; treasurer: Doretha Rivenburg; worship chairman: Beth Spengler; study: Doris Edwards; and service: Marilyn Rothe.

The new officers will be installed at the June meeting, it was announced. Williams agreed to print the yearbook. Spengler read a poem from the 1960 retreat and Rothe told about a four-day, three-night tour to Tennessee and Kentucky in October. The event is being sponsored by South-East Gateway Area.

Ruth Leik thanked everyone for bringing toiletries for the Echo Home, a year-around project of the group. "Ladies Night" will be held on May 3 at Central Christian Church, it was reported.

A Leadership Development Conference, based on the theme, "Decisions, Decisions," is set for May 22 at Webster Groves Christian Church. Sessions for new officers and lay people will be featured.

Prayer concerns were shared by members and Mildred Collins led the program, "Ministries of Compassion," and closed the meeting with worship.

Also attending were Joyce Bennington, Marge Kacera, Jean Tumayo, Peggy Gibbons, Lumea Durbin, Flora Mae Lonsky, Gra Fletcher and Lena Seitzer.

APA open house planned May 12

An "Open House" will be held at the APA animal shelter on Old Alton Road on Saturday, May 12, from 1 to 5 p.m.

The public will be invited to tour the shelter and meet members of the Association for the Protection of Animals, a non-profit organization which operates the facility.

Other activities are being planned for May 12, including a grocery raffle with a $100 gift certificate from Schmuck's Granite City store, it was reported at an APA meeting at the Knights of Columbus Hall. The drawing will take place at the open house.

President Judy Gordon presided with reports given by Thelma Mitchell and Betty Harrison.

Rose Atkins, shelter supervisor, reported on various animals awaiting adoption at the shelter.

Bridal shower for Amy Patterson

A surprise bridal shower honoring Amy Patterson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jim Patterson, was given in the cafeteria of St. Elizabeth School on March 18.

The tables were decorated with mums in orchid and white, matching the colors to be used in the wedding. A luncheon was served to 65 guests.

The shower was hosted by the bride's aunt, Sandy Jacobs, and her grandmother, Stella Probert. The hostesses were assisted by Marsha Thomko, Bev Camper and Karen Hunt.

The bride-elect will marry Tom Wonsil of Chicago this summer. She is a 1984 graduate of Granite City High School and a 1989 graduate of Loyola University of Chicago. She is employed as a teacher at St. Ladislaus Catholic School.

Her fiancé is a 1985 graduate of Gordon Technical High School. He is employed by People Gas, Light and Coal Co. of Chicago.

Organizations

Plans for a bake sale on May 19 also were reviewed.

The first stage of construction at the shelter will begin in June, with a small addition getting started. An extension to the east wing addition is still in the planning stage, officers said.

Mary Barr was a visitor and Board member Everett Kelly was also present.

The next APA meeting will be on Monday, May 7, at 7 p.m. at the Knights of Columbus Hall. Anyone wishing information about the organization or its future activities may contact the shelter at 931-0900 or write APA, P.O. Box 1311, Granite City, Ill. 62040.

Quilters' Guild to meet in Wood River

The Heartland Quilters' Guild will meet at St. John's Church of Christ at Sixth Street and Penning Avenue in Wood River on April 24 from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m.

For more information, call 466-2707. Visitors are welcome.

Eagles Auxiliary president feted

Yvonne Gray supervised the decorations and refreshments were served by the hostesses, Vincine Zerlan, Fuzz Hagauer, Angie Buehler and Cassie Hagauer.

Stokes was escorted to the altar, where she was presented with a large birthday cake and many other gifts.

Zerlan also announced the Granite City auxiliary unit tripled its membership quota in the past six months by adding 84 new members.

It was voted to donate $100 to the Granite City High School Red Pepper Club for an after-prim bash at the YMCA on April 21. A craft show set for the same date also was discussed.

A Mother's Day dinner honoring members will be hosted by the Eagles Aerie at 6:30 p.m. May 8 at the Eagles Home. Bingo chairman Ruth Jorgenson gave a report on a bingo night held at St. Gregory's Armenian Hall. Bingo games are held every other Wednesday night, she said.

Susan Allen, Evalene Ederle and Mary Stonum were awarded attendance prizes at the meeting.

Fans one Buck short without Jack

Jack Buck probably will be a major hit as CBS-TV's top baseball play-by-play man, but he leaves a big hole in the Cardinals' lineup for the 30 or so games he is gone.

Buck worked the network's opening game April 14 in Pittsburgh. Preparations for that game meant he missed the Cardinals' game in Philadelphia the previous evening.

Hard-working Bill Wilkerson filled in for Buck on the KMOX-AM (1120) broadcast, and he certainly carried considerable weight.

KMOX general manager Robert Hyland is testing out Wilkerson, said Kent Martin, a spokesman for KMOX. For the most part, Wilkerson did OK that game, but occasionally his lack of expertise was a problem. For example, the Phillies had runners on second and third with two outs and Tom Herr at the plate. Cardinals pitcher John Tudor threw "ball one." After telling us that Phillies slugger John Kruk was on deck, Wilkerson allowed that Tudor certainly did not want to face Kruk with runners in scoring position.

Longtime color man Mike Shannon let "ball two" go by before jumping in to point out that Tudor was not going to give Herr, a contact hitter, anything good to swing at. True enough, Tudor nibbled away with two more pitches, walking Herr, before bearing down to retire Kruk and get out of the inning.

In defense of Wilkerson, my first thought was "Let's get Herr; Kruk hits home runs." But Shannon knows more baseball than most people in St. Louis, which is saying a lot.

In a nutshell that is Wilkerson's biggest problem. Buck and Shannon are the best duo in the business and Cardinals fans are spoiled.

Wilkerson is a fine radio performer, but he is not Buck. Neither, of course, is anyone else.

If you listen long enough, you can hear just about everything on KMOX. Including broadcasts from Eastern Europe.

The station was the pioneer last year in the field of "call-in" shows from Moscow to St. Louis. KMOX now is originating a heavy program schedule from Eastern Europe. Hardy and KLOU-PM (103.3) on-air personality Kevin McCarthy will be leading interview and call-in shows from 9 to 10 a.m. this week from: Berlin, Monday (April 23); Prague, Yugoslavia, Tuesday (April 24); Budapest, Hungary, Wednesday (April 25); Warsaw, Thursday (April 26).

and Moscow, Friday (April 27).

What probably will be a very different kind of broadcast from Europe will come from KSD-FM (93.7). The "Breakfast Club" crowd, known for its outrageous, and certainly outspoken, morning programming, will broadcast live from Moscow from 6 to 10 a.m. May 1 and 2.

Breakfast Club producer Judy Martin promises that J.C. Corcoran and Joe "Mama" Mason will not do the same kind of programming as KMOX (as if we didn't know that).

Corcoran and Mason will try to bring their audience something that "they're not used to hearing about," Martin says. They will try to interview people in the street and much of the broadcasters' effort will focus on the success of McDonald's in Moscow.

Ian MacBryde is an independent video producer and former television executive.

Jazz, blues coming to Fox

Fox Concerts will present jazz musician Najee with guest vocalist Randy Crawford and pianist Alex Bugnon at 8 p.m. May 18 at the Fox Theatre.

Najee is one of today's premiere contemporary jazz rhythm and blues musicians. He plays several instruments, including the saxophone, tenor and alto saxophone, clarinet and flute. His latest album is called "Tokyo Blue" and features guest performances by several performers, including vocals by Freddie Jackson and Vesta Williams.

Randy Crawford is one of the most acclaimed singers in jazz music. She gained her early musical inspiration singing in church and was performing in local clubs by the time she graduated from high school. Her many hits include "Street Life," and "One Day I'll Fly Away." Her latest album is titled "Rich and Poor."

Alex Bugnon's debut album, "Love Season," combines funk and rhythm-and-blues foundations with jazz overlays.

Ticket prices for Good Friends II are $21.50 and $19.50. Tickets are on sale now at the Fox Box Office and all Metro Tix outlets, including 21 Schmucks Video Centers and 12 Famous-Barr stores.
